Niche à chiens

Sous le règne de Louis XV, de Louis XVI vont être créées pour Versailles des niches en tabouret pour deux chiens, couvertes de damas ou de velours, ayant en dedans deux coussins de tissus assortis afin de faciliter le confort du maître comme celui de ses délicieux amis.

L'Ancien Régime revendique le bien-être canin, investissant tous les intérieurs raffinés, gagnant en fantaisie. Les niches en tabourets suivent l'évolution des styles et s'agrémentent de pieds, de corniches, de moulures, de médaillons, leurs dessus rembourrés et garnis de coussins formant couvercle pour faciliter l'entretien.

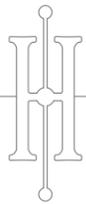

La Manufacture Henryot réédite une niche deux places de style Louis XVI empruntant son architecture à des boiseries d'alcôve, flanquées de colonnes cannelées. Cette réédition confèrera aux maisons du XXI<sup>ème</sup> siècle cette note intime, ce caractère peu apprêté qui aujourd'hui définit l'élégance.

Dog Kennel

Under the reign of Louis XV and Louis XVI are created for Versailles stool kennels for two dogs, upholstered with damask or velvet, with, inside, two cushions upholstered in the same fabric in order to make easier the comfort of the master as well as their four-legged friends.

The Ancien Régime claims for « dog welfare », investing with fantasy all refined homes. Stool kennels follow the evolution of styles and are ornate with feet, de cornices, mouldings, medals, with tops stuffed and upholstered with cushions in the shape of a lid, to make the cleaning easier.

The Manufacture Henryot re-issues a two-seat LXVI kennel, borrowing its architecture to alcove wood panels, ornate with groove columns. This re-issue will give XXI century homes this intimate note, this few affected character wich redefines the elegance of today.
